

Wales is Fairer

The Unique Nature of Public Law in Wales

David Gardner

1 March 2021 – Legal News St David's Day Event

Welsh Law*

Social Services Well-Being (Wales) Act 2014

Housing (Wales) Act 2014 & Renting Homes (Wales) Act 2016

Education (Wales) Act 2014

Planning (Wales) Act 2015

Public Health (Wales) Act 2017

Additional Learning Needs and Education Tribunal (Wales) Act 2018

Children (Abolition of Defence of Reasonable Punishment) (Wales) Act 2020

* Certainly not an exhaustive list

Wellbeing of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015

Social Services and Well-being (Wales) Act 2014

Section 7, Due Regard to UN Conventions

Equality Act 2010 (Statutory Duties) (Wales) Regulations 2011

E.G. – Regulation 18, Public Contracts

The Socio-Economic Duty

Section 1 Equality Act 2010

Section 45 Wales Act 2017

Conclusion

- 1) From a social and legislative perspective:
Wales is fairer
- 2) From a legal practitioners perspective:
Wales is interesting and ripe for testing of these legal duties

Wales is Fairer

The Unique Nature of Public Law in Wales

David Garder

dga@no5.com / @law1dgc

